Family Literacy Day

Family Literacy Day takes place every January 27th to raise awareness about the importance of reading and engaging in other literacy-related activities as a family.

Stop into the library on January 27th for one of our Literacy Day activities as we celebrate this year's theme: Learning in the Great Outdoors!

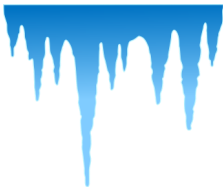

This year we'll be hosting two storytime sessions on Family Literacy Day ~ from 11:00 – 11:45 AM & 1:00 – 1:45 PM. Come dressed as a character from a book and WIN a FREE book! Limited spots available ~ please call to register.

Stop by the library in the afternoon, from 3:00—4:30 pm for a Family Scavenger Hunt. Solve the clues to find all the golden tickets hidden in the library. Registration is not required for this event.

THANK YOU as well to those volunteers who have helped with our regular programs and special events. We couldn't do it without you!

Silent Auction—Update

Thank you to all those who placed bids on our Silent Auction portrait, "Wild Horses, Ya Ha Tinda" by local photographer Karen Fahrlander, and congratulations to our winner Betty Jones.

Thank you to Karen for generously donating this portrait.

A New Year, A New Library!

Over the years, the library has received feedback that the area housing our computers is a bit of a bottleneck area that seems to impede flow through the library. In an effort to address this issue the library staff undertook the challenge to re-envision what the space could look like and how it could be improved. Once a design was approved, and with support of the library board, the library began to work on making this redesign a reality. With the help of a government grant, the library was ready to begin making changes.

Throughout late November and into December we have been moving books in anticipation of this shift in design however some more significant changes were needed. This holiday season the library was closed to the public between Christmas and New Year's while library staff moved shelving and books to their new locations.

BEFORE

AFTER

The library will look very different when we reopen January 4th and we'd ask you to please be patient with us as there are still a few more changes yet to come, specifically the movement of the computers to their new location. In the meantime, we are excited to welcome the community back into the library and are happy to help our patrons re-discover their library. Ask us for a tour of where book collections have moved to. We can't wait to show everyone around!
